Cuticura

DISFIGURING HUMORS, ITCHING TORTURES AND LOATHSOME SORES.

I have tried for eleven years to have my wife cured of a terrible skin disease. The CUTICURA REMEDIES (CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier internally and CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP an exquisite Skin Beautifier externally) have done in six weeks what I have tried for eleven years to have done. You shall have the particulars as soon as I can give them to you, and as we are so well known in this part of the country it will benefit you, and the remedies will cure all who use them.

BLOTCHES CURED.

I used your CUTICURA REMEDIES for Blotches and I am completely cured, to my inexpressible joy. CUTICURA SOAP is the best I have ever used and to the profession it is invaluable for cleansing the skin, thereby removing all work grease paint, and all the stuff used by them, leaving the skin pure and white and soft. My greatest pleasure is in recommending such an article.

THE DEAD SOLDIER.

Riverside Park Selected as his Last Resting Place.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE SITE

Preparations for the Funeral go Steadily Forward and the Programme is Partly Arranged—Washington People Still Dissatisfied

MT MCGREGOR, July 28.—The day broke clear and on the mountain passed without event. At 11 o'clock when the train arrived at the summit Col Fred Grant was one of the passengers upon it. He proceeded at once and alone upon his arrival to the cottage his brother Jesse having remained behind. The colonel immediately repaired to his mother's apartment, where the family gathered to hear the result of his trip to and the conference at New York. He detailed his movements, and explained that there seemed to be reasons for a choice of the burial spot in some other than Central park. Riverside park had at the time of General Grant's death been suggested as a spot of interment and it seemed best to the colonel, after seeing and hearing all, to change the place of sepulture to Riverside park. The matter having been thus presented to the family, a conclusion was reached in accord with the colonel's suggestions, and he at once dictated the following dispatches:

MT MCGREGOR, July 28.
W. A. Grace, New York: Mother takes Riverside. The temporary tomb would better be at the same place.

MT MCGREGOR, July 28.
Gen R. McFeely, Washington, D. C.: Mother today accepted Riverside park. She wishes me to thank you for the tender of the Soldiers' home.
F. D. GRANT.

Upon the same train that brought Colonel Grant up the mountain came a company of regular troops that had been expected since yesterday morning. They brought their tents and all camp accouterments. There were thirty-eight men in all.

OTHER ARRANGEMENTS.

The intention of carrying the remains in the private car of Mr Vanderbilt has been changed and the funeral car "Woodlawn" will be substituted for Mr Vanderbilt's car. This car besides carrying the remains will furnish accommodations for forty persons. Otherwise the train will be made up as previously stated.

The government has ordered General Passenger Agent Kendrick of the New York Central to drape the cars ... for the purpose to drape them entirely in black relying for imposing effect on the massing of colors. No white will be used, and the company promise a spectacle that will be more imposing and impressive than has ever before been known on such an occasion.

General Hancock and staff now propose to be present here Monday before the funeral services. On the day of the removal of the body to Albany the Delaware and Hudson Railway Company will send ahead of the funeral train at short intervals four passenger trains of fourteen cars each to take up Grand Army men and others who may that day be desirous of going into Albany to view the remains as they lie in state.

It is learned this morning that 600 or 700 troops will be or have been ordered to Saratoga to meet the remains of General Grant on their arrival there from the mountain Tuesday. It was the original intention of General Hancock to have sent these men to the mountain, but when he learned of the limited facilities for moving troops on the mountain he changed his purpose and will send them as stated to Saratoga to receive the remains there or to do duty during the transfer. It is not unlikely that the Seventh regiment of New York will be chosen and detailed to do this duty. Instead too of ordering a battery of artillery to the mountain the ordnance will be stationed at Saratoga where proper salutes will be fired during the transfer of the body from the mountain train to the funeral train.

General Hancock has informed Colonel Jones in command of the military here that Captain B...'s battery has been ordered from Fort Columbus to report at Mt McGregor as part of the guard of honor to the remains of General Grant. A detail of light artillery has also been ordered by General Hancock from Fort Adams.

GRANT AS A MAN.

Dr Newman is busying himself with his discourse in which he will endeavor to give the people some understanding as to what manner of man ... "As the first ... chief magistrate for eight years Grant is well known," he said, "but as a man plain and simple with all his lovable traits he is hardly at all known. How many are there that know that Grant was such a man that his son Fred was able recently to say something like this to me of him: 'These many years that I have been with father I never heard him say anything that he might not say in the presence of a lady, and when people have sometimes presumed to say improper things in his presence I have seen him blush and at times leave the room.' That is the man Grant was."

AT NEW YORK

THE FUNERAL PROCESSION.

NEW YORK, July 28.—General Perry said that the arrangements for the Grant funeral procession could not be completed for two or three days. Military and civic organizations as well as Grand Army posts from nearly every state in the Union had applied for positions in the line. The Grand Army men he has arranged in a solid body divided into four or five divisions. There will be two divisions from this city and other divisions will be made up of delegates from visiting posts. Each division will be headed by a band of music and will march in double rank company front, of sixteen file. The First and Second divisions of the National guard of the state of New York will form a prominent feature of the parade and it is probable that many militia organizations from this state and other states will take part. Three militia organizations from Illinois have already given notice that they will be present.

It is requested that all civic and military organizations desiring to take part in the parade will report at once to General Hancock on Governor's Island. The parade will probably be headed by a full force of mounted police. It was said that from 5 000 to 10 000 veterans would take part in the parade on Saturday August 8th. Each division will carry post colors and old battle colors, and old battle flags massed in the center of the division.

Mayor Grace said to-day that it was more than probable that the board of aldermen would very shortly change the name of Riverside park to Grant park. The selected site is on very high ground close to the North river. Just above the spot chosen for the tomb the river bends to the west and a fine view as far north as Tappan Zee is afforded across the Manhattan valley and lowlands bordering on the Harlem river. Visitors can see both shores of the sound while to the south the church towers and tall buildings in the lower part of the city do not obstruct the view of light houses on the Jersey shores.

THE SITE IN RIVERSIDE PARK.

NEW YORK, July 28.—A telegraph dispatch from Colonel Fred D. Grant announcing that his mother had decided in favor of a site in Riverside park, was received in the mayor's office in the city hall at half past 11 o'clock this morning. The burial place will be on the site of the old St. Clare homestead now known as Claremont house. The building stands on a high plateau at the upper end of Riverside park. The building was the homestead of the St. Clare family, and when the grounds about it were acquired by the city the old building which has stood for more than 20 years on the present site was remodeled and transformed into a house for refreshments, under control of the park department. The tomb and monument of General Grant will be directly on the site of this building, which must be demolished or removed.

Mayor Grace said to-day: "I have been confident from the first that when Colonel Grant was shown the advantages of the site in Riverside park, he would agree that it was a much more available site than any that could be found in Central park. Riverside park extends along the river front for two and a half miles from Seventy-second to One Hundred and Thirtieth street, and is of varying width. The total area is about 177 acres. I am very glad that the members of General Grant's family have accepted this site for the grounds about the monument can be laid with a view to display the testimonial that will mark the resting place of the country's hero."

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The board of aldermen met to-day. President Sanger announced that a dispatch had been received from Colonel Grant this morning announcing that the family had agreed to the general's being interred in Riverside park. The following resolution was then adopted by the board:

WHEREAS, The family of General U. S. Grant have accepted the offer of the corporation of the city of New York for sepulture in one of the public parks of this city and have selected a site in Riverside park for that purpose; be it therefore

Resolved, That the right of sepulture in said Riverside park is hereby given to General U. S. Grant and his wife upon her demise and be it further

Resolved, That a proper deed of cession for the ... to be prepared by the counsel to the corporation ... the exact locality and dimensions of the ground be fixed and said deed be therefore ... to the city authorities.

THE ROUTE.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Mayor Grace, President Sanger of the board of aldermen, General Perry, Park Commissioner ... and Police Superintendent Murray at a conference to-day laid out the following route for the funeral procession of General Grant: City hall to Broadway up Broadway to Fourteenth street, through Fourteenth street to Fifth avenue, up Fifth avenue to One Hundred and Tenth street, thence through the Boulevard to One Hundred and Twenty-second and Riverside drive, entering the park at One Hundred and Twenty third street.

ARRANGEMENTS ANNOUNCED.

NEW YORK, July 28.—General Hancock announced this evening that these arrangements had been decided upon: The Fourth artillery of Fort Adams under command of Major Adams, will fire a salute at McGregor and Major Randolph commanding the Fifth artillery at Fort Hamilton will fire the final salute on the day of the funeral. General Hancock and staff accompanied by General Sherman will proceed to Mount McGregor the night of August 3. The remains will be conveyed by a train consisting of a car for the family, one for the remains, two for the escort which will number not more than sixty men, one for the clergy and pall bearers, one for General Hancock and staff and one for the press. The first stop will be made at Saratoga and the second at Albany. At the latter place Adjutant General Farnsworth will assume charge of removing the remains to the capitol where Governor Hill assumes control. From Albany to this city the remains will be in care of General Hancock. Having arrived here the first division of the National Guard of New York will escort the body to the City hall and here a guard will be placed until the day of the funeral.

WHERE THE REMAINS WILL REST.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The site chosen for General Grant's tomb is on a sort of promontory on the Hudson river and is the highest point in Manhattanville. The outward swell of the promontory begins at One Hundred and Twenty second street and the river bank and returns to its regular line at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street. The summit of this elevation is almost a level plateau of something more than twenty acres. On the river side the descent is abrupt. At its foot 100 feet below are the tracks of that branch of the Hudson River railroad that runs into the West Thirtieth street depot. On the northwest is the ferry to Fort Lee, and on the north and northeast the red brick stores, houses and manufactories of Manhattanville cluster around the base of the hill. If the observer looks to the north he has opened before him the long vista of Riverside park of driveways, hewn stone walls and ancient oaks and maples on the steep slope of the Hudson. The spot suggests revolutionary war memories. Fort Lee is opposite, the old fort in Central Park is on the southeast, Fort Washington is on the north, and the highlands near West Point shut in the horizon beyond the Tappan Zee. No structures can be erected to break the uniformity of the view, as the water front and park belong to the city. The temporary tomb to receive the body will be built of brick.

GENERAL HANCOCK KEPT BUSY.

NEW YORK, July 28.—General Hancock was busy all day in arranging plans for the funeral. Generals Sherman, Shaler and many others came to him to offer suggestions. Applications or places in line continued to pour in from all parts of the country. Among those who have expressed a desire to be represented in some capacity are the national association of Mexican war veterans and Nineteenth Illinois volunteers. General Hancock has ordered Battery A ... United States artillery to proceed to Mt McGregor for special service in guarding the remains. "All retired officers of the army ... only ... orders (General Hancock), will find a place in the funeral procession. Consult Major General Sickles, who appears to be the senior retired officer of this city."

AT WASHINGTON

PROTEST AGAINST NEW YORK.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A meeting of citizens was held to-night to protest against the proposed burial of General Grant in Riverside park, New York city. Among those present were ex-Congressman Dezendorf of Virginia, who presided, General Whittaker, Hon. A. M. Clapp and L. Biss. A committee of five on resolutions, consisting of A. M. Clapp, L. G. Bell, Dr. Porsell, H. J. Mahan and A. B. Cunningham, was appointed. It presented a long preamble and resolution which were unanimously adopted, protesting against the interment of General Grant in Central or Riverside park, New York, on the grounds that the selection of a place of amusement and recreation for this purpose will violate the eternal fitness of things and such interment will localize his relics to a single state and city instead of entombing them at the national capital, the Mecca of the American people, that his ashes should sleep on soil over which the United States have exclusive jurisdiction and control, and the erection of a monument to his memory by congress will be greatly embarrassed if not defeated by his interment in locally owned ground. The resolutions also affirm that while it is not surprising that the great commercial city of New York should covet the remains of General Grant as an additional adornment to its pleasure seeking resorts where luxury, poverty and vice make their constant display, and has secured this ... by precipitation, it is a matter of deep mortification to the more elevated and patriotic sentiment of the nation that this important question should be determined without a wider or more deliberate consideration.

The ... therefore earnestly appeal to those with whom the determination of this important question is reposed to consider whatever action may be taken in the behalf and suggest the Soldiers' home in this district as the most fitting place for the tomb.

General Beale, General J. A. J. Creswell and General Burdette, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., were appointed a committee to go to Mt McGregor and present the resolution to the family of General Grant. The meeting then adjourned. It is not yet known whether any of the gentlemen appointed to be members of this committee will serve.

TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The following telegrams passed to-day between General Hancock and General Burdette:

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, July 28.
S. S. Burdette, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Washington: Your letter of July 26 received. If you as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, will be present at the funeral ceremonies of General Grant in New York, the relative place of the different bodies of your organization in the column can be arranged by you. The place of the organization in the column will be announced in due time by me. It will be a place among the mourners. Armed bodies and troops will be embraced in the escort and organized bodies from your organization may be placed with it.
W. S. HANCOCK, Major-General.

WASHINGTON, July 28.
Major General Hancock, Governor's Island: I shall be present as commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the funeral of General Grant in New York.
S. S. BURDETTE.

In connection with the above dispatches Commander Burdette says he will establish Grand Army headquarters in New York City, probably at the Fifth Avenue hotel some days before the final obsequies. The national staff and all post commanders in chief will be especially invited to attend.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—General John B. Clark, clerk of the house of representatives, has designated and requested the following named committee to represent that body at the funeral of General Grant: John G. Carlisle of Kentucky, Samuel J. Randall of Pennsylvania, William R. Morrison of Illinois, J. Randolph Tucker of Virginia, O. R. Singleton of Mississippi, Frank Hiscock of New York, Thomas B. Reed of Maine, Thomas M. Brown of Indiana and Benjamin Butterworth of Ohio. These gentlemen will be requested by mail to meet in New York City on the 7th of August at some hotel not yet determined.

EXPRESSIONS FROM ABROAD.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—United States Minister Fish at Brussels to-day cabled the secretary of state as follows: "By direction of the king the minister of foreign affairs has communicated to me an expression of the king's sincere condolence on the occasion of General Grant's death."

The president of Chili also cables: "In the name of the government and the people of Chili I take part in your national grief."

AT VARIOUS PLACES

AT SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Notwithstanding the decision reached by the executive committee of the Grant obsequies in this city, not to have any parade on the day of General Grant's funeral, the effort to have one is being renewed with every probability of success. A feeling during the past few days has manifested itself that there should be some public demonstration in addition to the exercises in the pavilion in commemoration of the sad event.

The executive committee of the G. A. R. at a meeting to-day decided to issue a call through the newspapers to all civic societies and military organizations to join a parade with the G. A. R. on the day of Grant's funeral.

GOVERNOR HOADLY'S PROCLAMATION.

COLUMBUS, O., July 28.—Governor Hoadly returned last night after several days absence east and this morning issued a proclamation recommending proper observance of the 8th day of August 1885, appointed for the funeral of General Ulysses S. Grant. He says of General Grant: "By his labors and those of the brave men he led the Union was restored, and six millions of freemen now celebrate the blessings of liberty secured for themselves and their posterity. Tenacious in war that he was magnanimous in victory and the benevolent results of his generous dealings with his foes and the ingratitude response comforted him in the face of death."

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 28.—At a meeting of Confederate soldiers at the court house last evening the following resolutions were adopted and ordered telegraphed to the family of General Grant:

Resolved, That we have learned with deep regret of the death at Mt McGregor of that distinguished civilian and soldier General U. S. Grant whose ... has shed lustre at home and abroad upon his countrymen, and

Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in this the hour of their deep affliction.

A VILIFIER OF GRANT.

LEE, La., July 28.—Allegations of Lee City were made yesterday against Chief of Police Ferguson, by the Gazette which accuses him of denouncing Grant and comparing him with the English outlaw Jack Sheppard. To-day the mayor of Lee gave the chief the option of vindicating himself in the courts by suing for libel or being discharged from his office. Ex-County Treasurer Crawford, ... the statement alleged ... brought ...

FRESH TROUBLE AT CLEVELAND

Return of a Member of the South American Commission—The President Makes a Number of Appointments—Etc

NEW YORK, July 28.—All of the banks belonging to the New York clearing house association with one exception to-day deposited their quotas with the subtreasury and received certificates for subsidiary coin signed by William Dowd, chairman of the clearing house committee and Mr Camp, manager of the clearing house, who hold the silver on deposit subject to order of the clearing-house committee at any future time. The failure on the part of one bank to deposit its quota, which was less than $100 000, is supposed to be due to oversight and the amount is expected to-morrow.

FRESH TROUBLE AT CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, July 28.—The quietude which had settled in Eighteenth ward was suddenly broken this morning by an attack upon two inoffensive laborers. As early as 4 o'clock a gang of strikers, armed with clubs, began to assemble in the vicinity of the mills and at 7 o'clock several hundred men were on the ground and conducted themselves in a very excited manner. There were no officers on duty and the crowd thought they were masters of the situation. Several men who had been employed in the yards of the mill cleaning up and making repairs were set upon by the mob, and James May and another, whose name could not be ascertained, were badly beaten. Shortly after the assault Sergeant Thompson arrived on the ground having jumped off the train when he saw the crowd of strikers. He dispersed the men unaided and they scattered with mutterings.

THE RELIC HUNTER ABROAD.

CINCINNATI, July 28.—Michael Hersch, the present owner of the house at Point Pleasant, Ohio, in which General Grant was born, says he would naturally prefer to have the house remain where it is, but he is not able to keep it if offers come to make it an inducement to let the house go elsewhere. He has had one offer of $1000 from gentlemen from Cincinnati but would not consider it. He says he could sell the house piece-meal for relics and, in fact, had sold a window catch for $... and a good many splinters from the weatherboarding, which had to be renewed. He was careful in repairing to leave the interior intact.

MEETING OF CATTLEMEN.

KANSAS CITY, July 28.—A representative meeting of cattlemen interested in Cheyenne and Arapahoe leases was held here this afternoon, at which a memorial was adopted asking President Cleveland to extend the time for removing cattle from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservations. No specific time of extension is mentioned in the petition. The board of trade of Kansas City passed a resolution recommending the memorial to the president. A committee of five was appointed, to go to Washington and present the memorial. The committee will start to-morrow.

THE INDIANAPOLIS POSTOFFICE.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 28.—This morning Commissioner Thoman and Chief Examiner Lyman, of the civil service commission were presented to Postmaster Jones by Vice President Hendricks' private secretary. The presence of the visiting investigators has created great excitement among politicians. The proceedings are generally denounced by democrats. Messrs. Thoman and Lyman are determined to make a thorough and searching examination into the administration of the postoffice.

THE JOHN DE COSTA WRECKED.

BOSTON, July 28.—A cablegram has been received in this city containing news of the total loss of the ship John De Costa, Captain Oates, with a cargo of valuable horses. The ship left Melbourne, and was bound for California. She was wrecked off Cookstown, Australia, the 10th of July. It is thought the crew were saved, but this is not known for a certainty. The ship was owned by Briggs & Cushing of Freeport, Maine.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

RICHMOND, Va., July 28.—Every incoming train is filled with delegates to the democratic state convention which meets here to-morrow. Indications are that the contest will narrow down to Fitzhugh Lee and Captain W. ... McKinney of Prince Edward county.

DEATH OF A GRANDSON OF VAN BUREN.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Martin Van Buren, grandson of President Van Buren, died here this morning. He was a bachelor and a prominent society man.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN COMMISSION

Arrival of Judge Thatcher of Kansas, one of its Members

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Judge Solon Thatcher of Kansas, a member of the committee appointed to visit Mexico and South America in the interest of trade between those countries and the United States, arrived in Washington to-day from Liverpool and called upon the secretary of state. He landed in New York yesterday. Curtis, secretary of the committee, is expected the latter part of the week. Thatcher said to-day:

"In every country we visited except perhaps Chili we found the authorities and the people desirous of strengthening the relations between their country and the United States. In nearly every case they said: 'We look upon the United States as our mother country, but have received no attention from her. Foreign powers have sent commissions to visit us and have endeavored to strengthen the feeling between themselves and our country. This visit of yours is the first intimation we have had that the United States takes an interest in us.' Our reception in Chili was indeed chilly—officially so though personally we were treated very cordially. The authorities did not express any eagerness to promote commerce between the two countries. In other countries the people all held the United States was a big and rich country, and they looked upon it as a guide."

The judge said that establishment of steamship lines to the ports of those countries was the solution to the problem and pointed out that France, England, Germany, Italy and Spain had already established such means of communication. In most cases the South American states would aid in establishing American lines. Thatcher added that all the countries visited were in favor of a convention of North and South American countries to consult on commercial and financial interests, the United States to take the initiative and name the topics. The countries were particularly interested in education. There were already American teachers in the Argentine republic. These countries also all advocated the adoption of common silver coin especially nations which mine silver.

The commission will make a report of its visit to each country. While the commission is not called upon to make recommendations, it will probably suggest that a convention be called, to which all Central and South American countries and Mexico be invited to send delegates.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

SENTENCES REMITTED.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Secretary Whitney to-day signed orders remitting the unexecuted portions of sentences in the cases of Paymaster Edward Bellows and Passed Assistant Paymasters J. ... Cann and Reah Frazer. These officers were tried by courts martial ordered by Rear Admiral Upshur when in command of the Pacific station for not taking proper steps to ascertain the market price of supplies for the south Pacific squadron. Bellows was sentenced to one year's suspension, Cann and Frazer to four years suspension on furlough pay retaining their present number in rank. They have been under suspension about six months. In remitting the sentences Secretary Whitney said: "It is not clear that the record of the trial was altogether free from objection as to the course of procedure." He remits them without intending to convey an imputation of approval of the officers' conduct.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The president to-day appointed Robert Murray, surgeon general of the United States army, Francis M. Gunnell, surgeon general of the United States navy, and Rev. Byron Sunderland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, to be visitors to the government hospital for the insane.

The president this afternoon made the following appointment: Truman H. Allen of Oakland, California, to be pension agent at San Francisco.

HAZEN PREFERS CHARGES.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—General Hazen to-day preferred charges against Sergeant Michael McCarran of the signal corps at Pensacola, Florida, and asked that he be tried by court martial for refusing to receive Private Greden, ordered, who was sent to assist him. McCarran is regarded as an efficient officer. He remained on duty through the yellow fever epidemic.

General Hazen chief signal officer, will sail for Europe Thursday to be absent until October.

WANTS TO BE RELIEVED.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Colonel T. F. Barr, judge advocate and military secretary of the secretary of war, has asked to be relieved. He has held the present position the past five years. It is understood that the vacancy to be made by Colonel Barr's departure will not be filled.

POOR SORGHUM SEED.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Complaints having been received at the department of agriculture that sorghum seed distributed this year failed to grow, samples of it were tested in the gardens of the department, and it has been found that only about 10 per cent. of it would sprout.

BACK FROM BRAZIL.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Bedford Mackey, United States consul at Rio Grande de Sol, Brazil, arrived in Washington to-day on a leave of absence. Mackey is the consul who some weeks since had a shooting affray with a Brazilian editor, the latter having published scurrilous attacks upon him and his brother. Mackey was tried and honorably acquitted. Mackey reports that a colony of ex-confederate soldiers is located in southern Brazil. The colony numbers about 500 persons and is doing well.

ORDERED TO SAN FRANCISCO.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—General McKeever of the adjutant general's office on duty at Washington has been ordered to San Francisco October 1 relieving Colonel John C. Kelton, who comes to this city.

THE PRESIDENT FIRM.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The president has declined to modify his proclamation requiring cattlemen to remove from the Indian territory within forty days.

THE FIRE RECORD

THE FIRE AT PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—Fire this morning at the works of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company, caused a loss of $100 000. The buildings were destroyed together with several hundred tons of crude sulphuric and muriatic acid and 3000 tons of the same ready for shipment. Insurance $1... 000.

CANADA.

A TERRIBLE DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

MONTREAL, July 28.—William Desplaces and Kimbad Rocelle, French Canadian farmers living ten miles from here near the town of Valois, were actors in a terrible tragedy yesterday. Desplaces was married to an attractive woman in whose fidelity he had until recently every confidence. He was in the habit of employing all the time he could spare from his farming operations in traveling through the country with a peddler's pack, and his absences were sometimes extended. He was lately told by neighbors that young Rocelle was a frequent visitor at his house during his absence. Two or three days ago he started on one of his peddling trips, telling his wife that he would not be back for a week. Last night he returned and his worst fears were realized. Frenzied with rage he shot and killed the couple, without awakening them, and sent a bullet into his own brain, falling dead instantly.

THE TRIAL OF RIEL.

REGINA, July 28.—The trial of Riel was resumed to-day. A jury was chosen as follows: Henry J. Flint, ... Merret, ... Brooks, Walter Merryfield, ... Deane and Francis Cosgrove. The crown objected to Dennis Woodward, sustained. Counsel for the defense exercised the right of peremptory challenge for five, one less than allowed.

IRELAND

REFUSED A LOAN.

DUBLIN, July 28.—The Bank of Ireland has refused to loan money to the Munster bank to assist the latter in its present embarrassment.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION.

Burlington Hawkeye: Mr Cleveland will soon start on a fishing tour. The rest of his party have been fishing for nearly five months with varying success.

Boston Advertiser (Mug.): The democrats are obviously in a perplexing quandary as to what course to adopt in relation to the administration in their convention this summer.

Philadelphia Press: George William Curtis declares that "the democratic experiment has proven eminently successful." We believe the solid south agrees with Mr Curtis on this point.

Pittsburg Commercial Gazette: The tariff is about the worst thing the administration has to handle. It is a skeleton in their closet and like the famous ghost of Banquo it won't down.

Chicago Tribune: The Des Moines Register says: "If you listen on a still night you can hear Iowa's corn crop growing." Yes, and if you listen on a still night you can hear Des Moines big distillery mashing up the corn.

Indianapolis News: The meretricious parade of reform is a farce played to the end. It no longer deceives nor amuses, and those who have chosen to act in it will be obliged to come out of it and show their hands. Anything is preferable and almost anything must prove more profitable in the end.

Cincinnati Commercial Gazette: John Sherman is returning home to take part in the state campaign. Mr Hoadly who wants to succeed him in the senate will be absent but his agents and emissaries will be present in all democratic conventions, ready to work for them on the Highland house plan.

St Louis Globe-Democrat: Many democratic newspapers seem disposed to chuckle over the failure of John Roach. Where they find cause for merriment we fail to discover unless it be a very funny thing to see the important industry of American shipbuilding very badly crippled and several thousand workmen suddenly thrown out of employment.

FIVE MEN BURNED TO DEATH.

Death of Sir Moses Montefiore—Gladstone Hopeful of Liberal Success—Terrible Domestic Tragedy in Canada Etc.

BAKER CITY, July 28.—The county jail burned at 2 o'clock this morning. It is supposed to have been fired by Fred. Winkleman, the murderer of Louis and Allen. Five prisoners were burned to death, to-wit: John Cooley, murderer of G. W. Plumb, Louis Miller, W. A. Land and Sam Brown alias Mansfield each held for larceny. The bodies are burned to cinders, and are unrecognizable. Winkleman was taken out alive but badly burned.

LETTER FROM LORD FARNHAM.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—A gentleman of this city has received a letter from Lord Farnham, regarding the published statements connecting Walter H. Lennox Maxwell, the alleged St Louis murderer, with the Farnham family. Under date of July 8th Lord Farnham writes: "In reply to your extraordinary inquiry, I beg to state that my late brother Somerset R. Maxwell (Lord Farnham), died on the 4th of June 1884 without issue. He was twice married and had no children, and died a widower. So much for the correctness of Mr Richard Owens statement, contained in the cutting from San Francisco papers of April 15th, enclosed in your letter. As to the individual supposed to be the perpetrator of the St Louis crime and said to bear the name of Walter H. Lennox Maxwell I have to state that the existence of such a person is unknown to myself or any of my family."

A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT INTERVIEWED.

J. Crowe Baker, member of the dominion parliament for Victoria, B. C., now visiting this city, says the opposition to the Chinese restriction law of Canada recently adopted, was met on the Atlantic side of the dominion. No one spoke against the bill, and the vote for it in the house was unanimous. If the law is not found stringent enough, Sir John A. MacDonald, the premier, has given assurance that the government will sanction more efficient legislation. Mr Baker says: "We feel that we are placed in a better position in regard to your country, for heretofore Chinese have gone to British Columbia, and have gradually filtered through to the United States. That might eventually cause trouble between the two countries. We are hand in hand with the United States on this subject."

WILL NOT RUN AGAINST FAIR.

The Post this evening says Mr Hobart who has just returned from Virginia City, wishes the Post to deny rumors that he is a candidate for United States senator for Nevada in the next election, in opposition to Hon. J. G. Fair. He says there is no truth in them. They probably originated in some of his friends requesting him to run for senator which he has refused to do, as pressing business engagements will take up most all of his time.

A FRIGHTFUL DEATH.

MARYSVILLE, July 28.—The La Porte driver brought news this afternoon of the accidental death yesterday morning of E. H. Hecker, engineer in the quartz mill in Perkins ravine two miles from Forbestown. Hecker's clothing caught on a revolving wheel and he was whirled rapidly around, his body coming violently in contact with the floor at each revolution. How long he was in this condition is unknown as there was no one else in the mill at the time and he was only discovered when his daughter went to call him to supper. The body was horribly mangled.

THE HIBBS CASE.

VICTORIA, July 28.—Hibbs was before the supreme court yesterday and will be up again to-day. Both the United States and the prisoner are strongly represented by counsel. After the reading of the depositions which occupied considerable time, Dimick, assistant postmaster of Portland, and J. J. Murphy, postoffice inspector, were called as witnesses. The latter testified to the admission of Hibbs at the time of the arrest. He states among other things that Hibbs admitted issuing 276 fraudulent money orders and the receipt of $15 000 or $20 000 upon the same, claiming that the offense he had committed was not forgery.

NOT FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS' SAKE

The Albany (New York) Argus, owned by Secretary Manning, publishes an article which has been widely copied by the democratic press, whereof the following is an extract

> There are localities in the state of New York where democrats have had a taste of it for a period which dates beyond the organization of the so-called republican party None can tell save those who have stood true to the democratic party in some of the counties in the interior of this state what such fealty has cost them. Not in the sense of money alone but in almost every relation which goes to make up neighborhood social life. There are towns and cities and neighborhoods in which ostracism by republicans has been carried to such an extent that the facts would be startling if they were to be accurately stated

This may not be an exaggerated statement To some extent, certainly, it is true and though there are reasons why it is to be deplored, yet there are other reasons why it is, or has been, entirely natural. These last reasons are found in the character and objects of the democratic party during twenty five years or more During the long struggle over the questions that preceded the war, that made the war, that were present during the war and that grew out of the war, the conduct of the democratic party was such as to make it, in the popular judgment, quite unjustifiable for any person to associate himself with it and in millions of minds the taint of that conduct still attaches to it. The man who, through any perversity of disposition, acted with the democratic party when it was so entirely wrong on questions of deepest consequence, naturally was disliked by many, particularly if he was an active democratic partisan The secretary's paper says further

> The line of discrimination would be drawn against him if he engaged in mercantile pursuits He would become the victim of political cliquetism his credit would not be good, perhaps, and the "freezing out" process would soon become apparent to him The implied if not the actual language of the ruling element of the community would be "You cannot be respectable if you are a democrat, and even your professions of Christianity are doubtful though you may be a member of a church organization" This is the kind of offensive partisanship that democrats have been compelled to face in many of the interior and rural counties in this state and we venture to say in some of the other states.

In this complaint there is much likewise that is truly stated It would be better, perhaps, not to recall these things, but since they are recalled it becomes proper to remind the complaining democrat that the fault was not wholly on the side of his political opponents. The democratic party was an ally of slavery Out of "Jeffersonian" democratic principles secession sprung Bitter opposition to the war for subjugation of the rebellion and restoration of the Union characterized the course of the party. After the war it passionately opposed all efforts to settle the questions that grew out of it, on grounds that would give justice to all men and peace and security to the country The struggle had not the character of an ordinary contest between political parties. There was a difference on questions that brought men face to face against each other on battlefields, and this was precisely the nature of the difference between the two parties, republican and democratic. Slavery, secession, the great war, the questions of reconstruction, maintenance of the national honor in regard to the national debt, all the leading subjects of agitation during this long period, had a significance deeper than anything we are likely ever to know in politics again To be a democrat was to be on the wrong side of all these questions and through the necessity that was always present of opposing the objects of that party, the public displeasure was manifested more or less in all the republican and national states against those democrats who were active, prominent and offensive in upholding their party, making it an aggressive organization and pushing it on to resist, arrest or reverse a great, beneficient and necessary national policy If democrats had to suffer, as Secretary Manning's paper asserts, it was not for righteousness' sake, but the reverse If they have had a hard time of it in many places "in almost every relation that goes to make up neighborhood social life," it was because the character, purposes and objects of their party were so utterly dangerous, indefensible and wrong Every candid democrat will now admit that the whole course of his party during thirty years was, at least, a mistake He admits this, indeed, by acquiescing now in the permanence of the measures and the policy which his party tried so hard first to defeat and then to reverse

Undoubtedly there will be better feeling, as time goes on and carries us away from these events, between republicans and democrats, and it is in every way desirable there should be. But there can be no wonder that absence of this feeling has been noted in the past. There can be no strong liking between members of different party organizations who hold principles so antagonistic as to set men in array against each other on fields of battle Such events and the memory of them must pass away before men who have stood on opposite sides in such a struggle, whether they were in the armies or not, can have the same feeling of close friendship and affiliation with each other that they naturally have with members of their own party organization It is to be observed, too, that if republicans have not liked democrats in past years, neither have democrats liked republicans They have held aloof from each other on both sides, through natural repulsion Knowing that they could not agree, and that the grounds of disagreement were inseparable, they seldom sought each other's company, entered into few confidences with each other, and regarded each other with a certain distrust and dislike which in the case of those who were active partisans on either side often hardened into hatred Happily, of late years this has been passing away It is not the part of good citizenship to perpetuate it Nevertheless when there is an attempt to throw the blame of it mainly on republicans it is right to recall the circumstances to revert to the facts, and see whether the chief censure should not be loaded upon other shoulders

SHRINKAGE OF GREAT FORTUNES

It is believed that both in the United States and Great Britain the great fortunes are increasing much less rapidly than the moderate incomes. Indeed it may be doubted whether any one of the vastest fortunes in America is equal to what it was five years ago and the same is alleged to be true in England The colossal fortune of Vanderbilt has shrunk one-third certainly and perhaps one-half within five years The losses he has sustained in his railroad enterprises and speculations are incalculable, and would have ruined utterly any other man in America. Jay Gould likewise is badly crippled He saved himself only by letting his great Wabash and Southwestern railroad system go into the hands of a receiver What the immense estate of A T Stewart is worth [illegible] in comparison with its value as he left it.

The English government is conducting an investigation to discover the causes of the present business depression, which prevails in that country as well as here It establishes the fact likewise that the losses of the very rich have been much greater in proportion than those of moderate wealth or those whom we would term the well to do classes The actual income of the English people has grown from [illegible],000,000 in 18[illegible] to [illegible],000,000 in 1880 and the returns show that its increase has been mainly among persons of moderate means The individuals making between $[illegible]00 and $1,000 have increased [illegible] per cent in number in that period between $1,000 and $[illegible],000 10 per cent; from $[illegible] to $[illegible] 11 per cent from $[illegible]00 to $[illegible] [illegible] per cent and above $5,000 [illegible] per cent. The distribution of wealth has thus shown a tendency to a juster level The incomes of many of the large landholders which formerly were great, have, during the past few years ceased almost altogether

The returns from Great Britain show a decrease of the value of total exports during some years past, though as matter of fact the country exports more goods in every one than at any former time in its history The depression, therefore, is not a consequence of the falling away of trade The only thing that has really fallen is prices And the fall of prices in England has been quite as marked as in the United States. Values of every kind have gone down together The great fortunes, based on the values of former years, have suffered as sharply as the similar fortunes in the United States. It appears therefore that the great barons of wealth in the two countries are by no means so wealthy as they supposed themselves

A GALLANT SOLDIER

Brigadier General John Gibbon, who has been assigned to the department of the Columbia, is expected to arrive at Vancouver barracks and to assume command to-day He comes to service we believe, for the first time in this department, but he has been engaged in one or more Indian wars originating here, and acted a gallant and conspicuous part in the war with Chief Joseph five years ago after the seat of operations was extended into Montana His career during the war was exceptionally brilliant and honorable General Gibbon was born in Pennsylvania in 1826 and was graduated from the national military academy in July, 1847 He went from the class room to the field in Mexico and served as a brevet second lieutenant at the storming of Chapultepec, and in the assault and capture of the city of Mexico He was made a second lieutenant in September, 1847 He served in the Seminole Indian war, and later, after his promotion to a first lieutenancy in 1850, was engaged in the removal of the Seminoles from Florida to west of the Mississippi river After this service he was attached to the military academy as instructor of artillery, and, upon his promotion to a captaincy in 1859, accompanied General Albert Sidney Johnston in the Utah expedition

Early in the war General Gibbon, still a captain, was chief of artillery under McDowell In May, 1862, he became a brigadier-general of volunteers, commanding a brigade in the battles of Gainesville, Manassas South Mountain and Antietam In these battles Gibbon's command won the title of the "Iron brigade." At Fredericksburg Gibbon commanded a division and was severely wounded, but he returned to duty in time to lead his division to victory at the storming of Mayre Hights. At Gettysburg he commanded the second corps and it was upon his troops that the flood tide of battle beat in vain In repelling Pickett's historic charge upon the stone wall, he was dangerously wounded He recovered sufficiently to take the field in Grant's overland campaign and commanded his old division, second corps, in the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, North Anna, Tolopotamy and Cold Harbor

In June, 1864, Gibbon was made major general of volunteers, and in command of the Twenty fourth army corps engaged in the siege of and operations around Petersburg, including the assault of April 1 and 2. In the pursuit of the rebel army he received the highest commendation from General Grant for the alacrity of his movements. He was designated by Grant as one of the commissioners to carry into effect the stipulations of the surrender

Since the war General Gibbon, as a colonel, has commanded the district of the Rocky mountains, the department of Dakota and the department of the Platte He was in command of the column that rescued the remnant of Custer's command after the battle of the Big Horn. In 1877, after a forced march of 274 miles in twelve days, crossing the Rocky mountains twice, he struck Chief Joseph with only 182 men, including officers, soldiers and citizens, and after one of the hardest fought Indian battles of history, so crippled the Nez Perces as to render their subsequent capture possible In this fight the Indians left eighty-nine dead on the field and admitted a loss of 150, killed and died from wounds. Of this action Lieutenant General Sheridan in his report said "Col John Gibbon, commanding the district of Montana at once took the field at the head of 146 men and thirty four citizens, who joined as volunteers, and on the [illegible]th of August attacked them (Nez Perces) near Big Hole pass Montana and after one of the most desperate engagements on record, in which both sides lost heavily, he succeeded in driving them from the field When it is borne in mind that the Indians outnumbered the troops and citizens who attacked them more than two to one and were equally as well armed and equipped the good conduct of Colonel Gibbon and his men will be appreciated. Our loss was three officers, twenty-seven soldiers and six volunteers killed, and four officers, including Colonel Gibbon thirty soldiers and four citizens wounded, being over 40 per cent. of the men engaged.

Brigadier General Terry, in his report, says "I think no one can read this report from Colonel Gibbon without feelings of great admiration for him, for his officers, for his men and for the citizen volunteers who fought with them but with the admiration which their gallantry, resolution and devotion excited, other feelings will mingle It is painful to contemplate the famous Seventh infantry, a regiment whose history is interwoven with that of the country from the battle of New Orleans to the present hour, so attenuated that with more than half of its companies present it could take into action but 142 men And it is equally painful to behold its colonel, recently a major general and a distinguished corps commander, reduced to the necessity of fighting rifle in hand as a private soldier and compelled by a sense of duty to lead a mere squad of men in a forlorn hope against a savage enemy from whom defeat would have been destruction

General Gibbon comes from an infantry regiment though in a sense he represents the artillery branch of the service His promotion to a general command in the regular army has come late in life, but it has come at last, and it may be enjoyed with the consciousness that it has been splendidly earned It is altogether likely that General Gibbon's military career will end in this department He now lacks less than five years of the age of retirement (6[illegible]) and is not likely to be removed during that time We only express the sentiment of the country in bidding him welcome

THE PEACE POLICY

Its Result Among the Indians so far as Applied

SKOKOMISH, W T, July 18

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your weekly of July 3 is an article on the above subject which says "In their recent letters through THE OREGONIAN, Messrs Dieffenbaugh and Eells have said a great deal in defense of the church connection with Indian management, but they have not made it clear that this connection has resulted in any real progress on the part of the Indian toward self support or toward moral ways of living The peace policy which originated in the purest philanthropy has proved a conspicuous failure."

In my two articles I did not try to prove that the peace policy had improved the Indian because I did not know that you doubted it I simply attempted to correct some statements of Mr A J Parker, but as it is now stated that I have failed to make this clear I trust you will give me space for reply

Now I do not claim that the above named policy expected to make all the Indians Christians until the millennium shall come, or even to make them equal in civilization to the whites in ten or fifteen years of work It took the white race about a hundred years to drop its heathenism and adopt the civilized ways of Christianity, and I am not one of those who believe the Indian race so superior to that of the Anglo-Saxon one that it will drop its heathenism and savage ways in one-tenth of the time that it took our race to do so. Nor do I maintain that all the agents who were appointed under that policy were perfect men, or did what they ought to have done, or that the church did all that it should have done. Still I believe that the Indian race has been benefited by President Grant's policy

1. Civilization To begin with I wish to speak not of what has occurred a long ways from home, so that nobody is likely to come to prove the falsity of it, as has been the case with some patent medicine certificates, but I will begin at home

In June, 1874, I came to the Skokomish reservation On the following Fourth of July the day was celebrated The people were well dressed, there was no whisky about, for the peace policy had been in force about three years and the agent had had several contests on that point, and the orderly conduct of the people was noticeable. Still, in order to induce the Indians to have the celebration, the agent furnished the beef, flour, and other food, and the day closed with those inveterate habits of Indians—horse racing, betting and gambling, although for three years the influence of the agent had been against these.

On the Fourth of July, 1885, I again attended their celebration The leader of it was not one of the more progressive Indians, but an old man, between 60 and 70, and an Indian doctor There was feasting, baseball playing, canoe racing and the like. The Indians themselves raised all the money for the expenses of the celebration, and have done so for many years, all that the agent ever intended at first being to encourage the Indians in such an affair, expecting then to leave them to their own resources There was no horse racing, or betting, or gambling, as far as I could learn, nor has there been on the reservation for about two years, or, at least, if there has been, it has been secretly done, the Indians themselves having made laws against it. Twenty persons were engaged in the game of baseball, their ages being between 15 and 35, and with two exceptions, they talked English as they played

Since 1880 when the treaty expired which allowed any annuities, they have been self-supporting, and the same has been true of all the Indians on Puget sound A few of the old ones here make their money by fishing and similar work, but the large majority and about all the able bodied ones do it by logging, farming, and work for whites During the present season they have run five logging camps, two on the reservation, one on land homesteaded by an Indian, and at the other two they have bought the timber from the whites who own the land At one camp a white man was hired to drive the team, but with this exception they do their own work, own their own teams, keep their own accounts and sell their logs, with very little assistance except the occasional writing of a letter The mill companies are not afraid to furnish them supplies in advance to the amount of $400 or $500 "We have less fear of furnishing them supplies than we have of furnishing to white logging camps" said the superintendent of one of the large sawmills to me within a year and a half, "because we lose less by it In fact we have never lost anything by it." They solve the labor and capital problem by paying the company debts first and then dividing the remainder among those who have done the work, be it little or much And what is true of these Indians is true of a large number on the Sound All the help which they obtain from the government is a school, an industrial teacher a physician, and support for their children while in school, and an agent who sees that the children attend school, and that all Indians are kept from drinking, as much as possible

I do not, however, wish to be understood as saying that these Indians are perfect, or are superior to the white race I often find fault with their ways, which are not up to my standard of civilization, but I do believe that the peace policy has resulted in real progress toward self support and moral ways of living

In order to show that this is not wholly an exception I will give the following figures taken from the reports of the Indian bureau as late as 188[illegible] when Secretary Teller's policy was adopted, and in order that I may show that the figures of the peace policy are not stretched I will also give those for 1884 These are for the United States with the exception of the five civilized tribes in the Indian territory

	18[illegible]	1[illegible]	1884
Land cultivated by Indians—acres	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of bushels of wheat, corn, oats, barley and vegetables raised	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of tons of hay cut	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Horses owned	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of cattle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of swine	830	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of sheep	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H[illegible] owned	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Thus in sixteen years the results of industrial pursuits doubled, trebled, quadrupled and some increased much more as in the case of the sheep

The increase in the number of acres cultivated from 18[illegible] to 188[illegible] in Oregon was from [illegible] to [illegible],044 and in Washington from [illegible] to 2[illegible]

As to making them herdsmen and farmers and prompting their industry and ambition by making them the actual and personal owner of the soil they till the article to which I refer is right.

This is precisely what the peace policy has been doing, as shown by the above figures. In my article in THE OREGONIAN of June 1[illegible] last I showed not only that General Grant's policy had desired it, but that it, and it alone, had accomplished it in this northwest coast for on Puget sound under it some of the Indians have received titles to their lands on the reservations, thus breaking them up as such Says General O H Howard too, in a late article in the Interior "It was under Grant that legislation was first suggested looking to land in severalty and to proper courts for the trial of Indian offenses, and making Indians amenable to law" It was under Grant March 3, 1875, that the benefits of the homestead law were applied to Indians Thus if it is true that this is what is needed in order to elevate the Indian, it is also true that the peace policy has also resulted in the real progress of the Indian toward self support and that it has not been a failure

2 Education In 1871 there were five schools among the Indians of Washington territory with 10[illegible] scholars In 1882 there were nineteen schools with [illegible]2 scholars, and 11[illegible] Indians who could read out of 13,25[illegible] In 18[illegible] in the United States there were 111 schools among them with 4[illegible]18 scholars in 1882 there were [illegible] schools with 8735 scholars In 1884 there were [illegible] schools and 11,7[illegible] scholars. Thus education largely increased under the peace policy as well as industry

3 Christianity The article also says, "It was found impossible to Christianize the Indians," although it acknowledges that here and there an Indian or a score of Indians have been converted If it is true of a score why may it not be true of another score, and if so must it be possible to Christianize them as a people

As I was getting into my boat last Fourth of July in order to return home three miles [illegible] an Indian wished to know if he might return with me I said yes and he told me that his reason for leaving before the other Indians did was because his boy was very sick He died two days afterward and yet that man brought up and living for more than forty years in the belief of superstitions, tamahnous, and Indian doctors would not employ an Indian doctor, because he believed it to be wrong Nor is this an individual instance A year ago last winter another Indian lost a child, but he would not have an Indian doctor A second child of his was also fatally sick The grandfather and other friends urged hard to have an Indian doctor, but the father said no, although there was no law against it. The father said to me "If you will tell us where we can get medicine that will cure it, we will get it. We do not care if we have to go thirty miles and if it shall cost us $50 we will get it, if you will only tell us where" The child died, but there was no Indian doctor, and a goodly portion of these Indians do the same way

Of the 264,369 Indians in the United States (not including Alaska) the report for 1883 gives 9255 as members of Protestant Evangelical churches and important churches were not reported. This is one in twenty nine In 1800 only one in sixteen whites in the United States were members of such churches.

In the Indian territory and among the Sioux and Nez Perces, and elsewhere, for many years there have been Indian pastors, as well as teachers and a few editors, who have aided largely in carrying on the educational and Christian work among their people

Says THE OREGONIAN of August 22, 1874 in speaking of the death of Rev H H Spalding, who spent a great part of his life in Christianizing the Nez Perces "Perhaps it is to his influence more than to any other single cause, that the Nez Perces are indebted for the distinction they enjoy of being regarded as the most intelligent and least savage of our Indian tribes"

I here ask the question where any Protestant Christian Indians have ever been engaged in any Indian war against the United States. They have been Christianized so as to prevent this Nay, more, so as to aid us largely in our wars with the savage tribes

According to Col T R Cornelius, it was the Christian Cayuse, Istiens, and his band, who aided us largely in the Cayuse war of 1847-8, against those of his own tribe. It was the Protestant Spokanes and Nez Perces, who, in the same war, protected our missionaries from a death similar to that of Dr Whitman It was the Nez Perce preacher Timothy and his friends who, in 1858, saved Col Steptoe from annihilation after his noted defeat. According to Gen Alvord, the colonel often descanted on his manly traits, and no wonder. It was Lawyer and his friends, who kept the Nez Perces from a war when, in 1862, we had located the capital of Idaho on their reservation, contrary to our laws. It was the Warm Springs Indians who helped us materially in the Modoc war In fact, there was no real success until their arrival General Gilliam was not willing to follow the Modocs to their den until after the arrival of these scouts They prayed to God in the morning and fought successfully in the day time. It was the Protestant part of the Nez Perces who remained loyal during the war with Joseph, and who aided General Howard as scouts, even to death, and who, for the supplies, services and horses which they furnished, received from the government more than $5000 In every Indian war which has occurred on this northwest coast the influence of Christianity has been very marked on the Indians, so that I make the assertion and, in addition to what has just been said, refer to Eells' History of Indian missions on this coast, chapter vi, for enlarged proof, that if government had paid all expenses of Indian missions here, and yet if no Indian had been converted, and no other fruit obtained, except that which has been received in these Indian wars, from the influence of Christianity on the Indians, the money would have been wisely invested.

The same has also been true east of the Rocky mountains. In the terrible Sioux massacre of 1862 John Otherday, a full blooded Indian, conducted a party of sixty-two whites, mostly government employees, from the agency at Yellow Medicine to Hutchinson and Glencoe, and when seven days later he received the congratulations of the citizens of St. Paul he said that he was a member of Dr Williamson's church (Presbyterian) and that his religion had taught him what to do When he heard of the trouble, knowing that it was not in his power to prevent it, he thought that the best thing he could do was to attempt to save the white people. "With sixty two men, women and children," he said "without moccasins, without food and without a blanket, I have arrived in the midst of a great people" When writing his address he said to the gentleman in whose study he wrote it "It was the gospel of Jesus that made him protect these white people." It was Paul Mazakoo-ta-mane, an elder in the church, who was the most energetic in his opposition to that rebellion, who organized a counter revolution, and under whose leadership a hundred captive women and children were delivered to our troops at Camp Release The pagan Indians burned the houses of the Christian Indians in order to compel them to join with the hostiles, and yet not a Christian did so, and with one exception, not a prominent pagan Indian assisted the whites The government recognized these services, and they received as their reward from $50 to $200 dollars each

I might also refer to the five tribes of the Indian territory, with their schools and churches, some of whom (the Seminoles) fifty years ago were called "rattlesnakes, vipers, only fit for manure to be shot wherever seen" but whose statistics, even under Secretary Teller, were published separately from those of the other Indians, because they are called the civilized tribes, and it was hardly thought proper to mingle the statistics of civilized people with those only partially civilized

I acknowledge that there is some reason for the statement that the Indians are the same low savages that they have ever been, because those persons who only see them around our towns and cities only see the poorest specimens of them—those who love whisky and who love to be contaminated with the lowest class of whites. But I maintain that these are not fair specimens of what is being done with Indians. I went to Portland in 1871. There were low drunkards, gamblers and the like there I was there again a month ago, and that same class of people was still there The same is true in many other places of the United States, and yet we might as well say that the white people cannot be Christianized because of this as to say that the Indians cannot be Christianized because low specimens of them still exist. But from statistics I know that Christianity has increased in the United States in the present century three times as fast as the population, and likewise because of facts and statistics I know that the Indians can be Christianized

Thus if we can believe the reports of the Indian bureau, the Indians have been largely benefited under the peace policy If we take out of white civilization education and Christianity, we take out the foundation of our civilization In all ways at times it has been tried and such people have rapidly retrograded I am not one of those who believe so much in the superiority of the Indian race over that of the whites as to think that it can be elevated from a savage to a civilized state without the aid of the same which white civilization cannot stand without

The OREGONIAN very justly says "It has been sufficiently demonstrated that the Indian cannot be artificially developed" Many years ago American missionary societies stated substantially the same when they said that it was not their duty to carry the bread to the heathen, but only to teach them to make their own bread This can, I believe only be done by aiding them to develop their bodies, minds and souls by teaching them industry, education and religion, without any one of which they cannot rise As President R S [illegible] Haygood of Georgia says about the negroes, so the same is true about the Indians "If Christian people let him alone, will wicked people let him alone? No, not for one hour

NEW MARKET THEATER.—"Uncle Josh w be presented at New Market again this evening This will be the last chance to see Denma Thompson and his excellent company in the representation of "Joshua Whitcomb," th honest old New England farmer The compan were at Salem last night, where they we greeted by a large audience. Engagemen already made in the east compel them to ma their stay in the northwest very brief. The losing one night here last week induced the to return here to-night instead of going furth up the valley They leave to-morrow for T Dalles, where they play one night and the make a clean jump to the Montana circuit.

SEE TO YOUR ASSESSMENT

The county court has made an order, in vi of the very large number of corrections app for in the tax roll last year, that no applicatio for reduction of taxes, or correction of the t roll other than clerical errors), for the com year will be heard after the roll shall leave t equalization board Every effort will be ma to get it correct, but it must stand as it lea the board

All taxpayers should hand in their statemen or see the roll whether called on by the assess or not

No indebtedness on account of mortgage w be allowed by the assessor unless claimed.

PERSONAL.

County Clerk Sanders is taking a vacation at the seaside.

Policeman Brannan took his invalid daughter to North Beach yesterday.

D. P Thompson left yesterday for a two weeks' sojourn at his cottage at North Beach.

Mrs. W. M. Wisdom returned from a two months' visit among friends and relatives at Baker City on Tuesday's train.

Mrs. James Hackney, Mrs. Streibig and Mrs. L. Bettman and son left for North Beach yesterday. The party will occupy the spacious new cottage just erected by Mr. Hackney on the beach.

R. L. Durham, cashier of the Portland savings bank, who has been under the weather for several weeks, left yesterday for the Seaside house. He will be joined by his family on Friday and will remain till he has recuperated.

THE STAGE.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—"Uncle Josh" will be presented at New Market again this evening This will be the last chance to see Denman Thompson and his excellent company in their representation of "Joshua Whitcomb," he honest old New England farmer The company were at Salem last night, where they were greeted by a large audience. Engagements already made in the east compel them to make their stay in the northwest very brief Their losing one night here last week induced them to return here to-night instead of going further up the valley They leave to-morrow for The Dalles, where they play one night and then make a clean jump to the Montana circuit.

SEE TO YOUR ASSESSMENT.

The county court has made an order, in view of the very large number of corrections applied for in the tax roll last year, that no applications for reduction of taxes, or correction of the tax roll (other than clerical errors), for the coming year will be heard after the roll shall leave the equalization board Every effort will be made to get it correct, but it must stand as it leaves the board

All taxpayers should hand in their statements or see the roll, whether called on by the assessor or not

No indebtedness on account or mortgage will be allowed by the assessor unless claimed.

WHY THIS DISCRIMINATION?

A few days since in a report of the fire at Justice Davis house it was stated in THE OREGONIAN that there was some delay on account of the bursting of the White Anchor hose These particular sections of hose have been in constant use for eleven years At the fire yesterday the Maltese Cross hose burst though it has been in use less than four years and no mention was made of it I cannot understand this discrimination against an article that has shown such excellent service and in favor of a hose the inferiority of which is well known to every fireman in Portland the fire commissioners not excepted

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

CHESHPT AGAIN.—The town burglar is practicing his profession again in his usual bungling style. He got disgusted a week or two since at his want of success and took a vacation, during which he has probably earned enough to keep him for a short time while he plies the trade for which he seems to have a liking but in which he will never make his mark He has evidently been studying and has made some progress in the rudiments of his profession as is evidenced by he way in which he bored twenty-one holes around the key hole of C H Prescott's door, and twenty one more around the bolt, thereby effecting an entrance The only thing he got there was an opera glass with which he intends to sweep the horizon during his raids, to endeavor to sight a policeman Last night he effected an entrance to the residence of W J. Barrs, corner of 18th and I streets, by turning the key in the lock of the kitchen door with a pair of pincers Finding all the doors along the halls locked he strolled along till he reached the room of the servant girl in the upper story He commenced searching her clothes, but having spent some time in searching for pockets in the wrong garments, he uttered an exclamation of disgust, which awoke the girl who with the presence of mind peculiar to her sex gave an unearthly screech, and then—well it is impossible to say exactly what she did then for the burglar left and we weren't there, but if she has had anything like proper training she 'fainted dead away.' Our pet burglar is confoundedly out of luck, but if he keeps assiduously at work he may some day, or rather night, succeed in catching on to something worth taking

A WEARISOME EXCURSION.—About four hundred people boarded the steamer Multnomah in this city yesterday morning to participate in the excursion which was advertised to go to Young's river falls. The boat started a few minutes after 7 o'clock, but owing to headwinds nearly all the way down, she did not arrive at Astoria until about 2 It was then too late to go to Young's river, so the party disembarked at Astoria and tried to have a picnic by wandering about the streets of that classic town and listening to the sighing of the sad sea waves underneath "A picnic is a picnic, but this was no picnic," as the late lamented Mulcahy used to say, and at 4 o'clock everybody re-embarked for home The ride up the river was even more tedious than that down, although a stiff breeze had dispelled the smoke and it was a beautiful moonlight night, but everyone was tired and sleepy, and by 10 o'clock both the upper and lower deck of the steamer looked like a hospital after a battle, for young and old were stretched out on all sides. The boat arrived at her dock here at 12.30 this morning, and the tired and sleepy excursionists complainingly scattered to their respective homes. This result might easily have been foretold. Any excursion planned to go so long a distance and return in the same day must certainly be a failure so far as any enjoyment is concerned. A steamboat ride of fifty miles or even seventy-five may be very enjoyable, but one of 220 miles must necessarily become tedious. A day in the woods with a steamboat ride in the morning to get there, and another in the evening to get home, would be more enjoyable both to young and old.

EXHIBITS FOR EASTERN FAIRS.—The baggage car for conveying east the samples of grain, fruit, etc. collected by the board of immigration for exhibition at various state and county fairs, will be turned over to the O. R. & N. Co at Huntington by the Short Line on August 1, and will arrive here on the 3d. Quite a collection is already at the immigration rooms, and Messrs. D D, and F D Prettyman will return from southern Oregon in a few days with the samples collected in that section. A room has been secured over Everding's store, where the collection will be arranged for placing in the car The fruits are preserved in salicylic acid, after a recipe obtained by E. W. Allen from the Arkansas commissioner at the New Orleans exposition, which, while it takes the blush off the peaches, preserves them without cooking for an indefinite length of time. The fruit when fresh picked is packed tightly in jars and a solution of fifteen grains of salicylic acid in a quart of water poured over it. If it is intended for table use eight ounces of sugar must be added to the above quantity of the solution.

EXPORTING INDIANS TO GERMANY.—In an old country like Germany proprietors of museums find it hard to procure new attractions. This will account for the fact that J Adrian Jacobson, ethnologist of the Royal Berlin Museum, has been gathering Indian curiosities for the past four years along the northwest coast He has collected several cases of these articles, and to complete his list of wonders has engaged a chief and eight men of the Bella Coola, a British Columbia tribe of Indians He arrived here with them yesterday and left at 3 P M for New York They are under contract for nine months at $20 per month. Their names, which will add much to their attraction in Deutchland, are Ya Coptlas, chief, Ick-Lehoneh, Ka-che-lis, Ham-Chick, Huck-Mulshe, Isk-ka-lasta, Que-nub, Elk-gul and Pooh-Pooh. The long journey will make these attractions rather expensive, but "though the cost high we've got to have them"

CONSOLIDATION OF SUPERINTENDENCIES.—A circular will be issued by the O R. & N. Co to-day, announcing that the superintendency of the river and sound division and the Portland terminus of the ocean division are to be vested in H S. Howe, the present superintendent of the railroad division The effect of this will be to relieve Manager Prescott of the immediate supervision of the ocean division and to "relieve" entirely Frank T Dodge, who has so long filled the position of superintendent of the river and Sound division. Centralization seems to be the policy of the company, and it is quite certain that the superintendency of these important interests could not have been centered in any more competent person than Mr Howe Mr Dodge has gone east for a vacation, and should he return he will doubtless receive a suitable position in the service of the company

YESTERDAY MORNING'S FIRES.—The second alarm at 4 20 yesterday morning was for a fire in a house two doors west of Wilson's hotel on Hood street, the burning of which caused the alarm at 2 30 It was caused by a spark from the hotel lodging on the roof The building is owned by Daniel Raymond and the damages amount to about $200, covered by insurance. About 7 o'clock the No 4's and the hook and ladders were called out by telephone on account of a pulu mattress taking fire in the burning hotel A bucket of water would have extinguished it and avoided the extra run for the firemen which was made the more annoying from the fact that William Stroinen, the driver of Four's hose carriage, met with a fall and so seriously bruised his hip that he will be laid up for some time.

SWIMMING BECOMING FASHIONABLE.—The hot weather of the past few days has made river bathing extremely fashionable, especially among those who from press of business, or the want of it, have been unable to get away to the seashore The bathing houses on the East side have been patronized almost to their full capacity, and since the novelty of the thing has passed off without Dame Grundy getting shocked, numbers of ladies, accompanying their parents, husbands or brothers, have become regular patrons In fact the swimming furore has but just begun, and hundreds of people of both sexes, who, for years, have been satisfied with the water their bath tubs would hold, will now lave themselves in the flowing river gaining cleanliness and exhilarating exercise at the same time

FLY AWAY PRETTY BIRD.—Isaac Vogel, the sleight of hand swindling fakir, was trying to work his little racket in East Portland yesterday He perhaps thought that THE OREGONIAN did not circulate over there, but he knows better now Although he talked himself hoarse he caught very few suckers Although he tossed up a ten-dollar piece and let it fall into his purse he could not get an offer of one dollar for it. Isaac, you pretty Vogel, you had better wing your flight back to California. We have no use for you in Oregon, and although you may linger till the state fair you will not make your fortune there

FINAL TEST.—The Divided Car Axle Company had a number of their axles manufactured at the east some time since, and they have been placed under five cars built at the O R & N. Co's shops at The Dalles. These cars will arrive here in a day or two, and will be placed in service on the company's line in order to make a practical and final test of the merits of this axle. If it proves satisfactory it will be introduced into general use as soon as practicable. As the company claim an actual saving of 77 per cent. of friction on curves by the use of their axle the test is a subject of great interest to railroad companies

STEAMBOAT RACE.—On Sunday evening the steamers R R Thompson and Lurline had quite a lively race while coming up the Columbia. The Lurline left Astoria first, but after each boat made a landing they came abreast of each other and without any intention on the part of anybody in particular they commenced to race They ran "neck and neck" for about twenty miles to the great joy of those on board The passengers by the Thompson claim that she obtained a slight advantage over her competitor At Oak Point the Lurline made a landing and the race ended.

WANTS A GUARDIAN REMOVED.—Mary Hayes has petitioned the county court to remove Gertrude DeLin from the guardianship of Mary Teresa Miller, a minor, upon which County Judge More and yesterday issued the following order, That Gertrude DeLin and all persons interested in he guardianship of said minor, appear before this court on the 5th day of August, at 10 o'clock A. M., and show cause why order removing said Gertrude DeLin from the guardianship of Mary Teresa Miller and revoking said letters of guardianship should not be granted

CHINESE MISSIONS.—Rev. E. J. Hansen of Olympia, who has the supervision of the Chinese Methodist mission schools of the Pacific northwest, arrived here Monday from the Sound and will remain during the closing exercises of the Methodist mission. The concluding exercises will be held in the lecture room of the Taylor street M E church this evening Mr Hansen will next go to Ocean park. He resided here for some months, and is quite well known as an energetic and effective worker in the line he has chosen

SOUVENIRS FOR GATES' BENEFIT.—Harry Gates, who is something of an artist in oil as well as a singer, has painted four small pictures of Columbia river scenery which are to be given away at his benefit. Every lady attending will receive a ticket entitling her to a chance in the drawing, which will take place on the stage The pictures, two of which are exhibited in Eggert, Young & Co's window, are painted in black and white, and although not masterpieces, are sufficiently good for souvenirs of the occasion

KILLED A BEAR.—While visiting at Foster's place on Crooked creek, across the river from Astoria, last week, Geo M. Rowe heard a commotion one day near the house and saw a huge 1000 pound black bear seize and carry off a 300 pound hog. He got a rifle and followed Mr bear, finally getting a range shot at him, taking him in the shoulder and putting the bullet through bruin's heart. George has one claw and the funny bone of the bear as trophies, and for a man who wasn't in robust health it was a first-class exploit.

GETTING READY FOR A TEA PARTY.—Capt. H. L. Hoyt has gone to Port Townsend on business connected with the entry and shipment of the cargo of tea daily expected to arrive from Japan on the bark Isabel. The Northern Pacific Railroad Company are hurrying all their spare freight cars to Tacoma to receive this tea for shipment east over their line. It will require 200 cars, each of which will carry five ons of tea These will be put through with all possible dispatch.

GOLD WATCH ASTRAY.—Charles Allen, a colored porter on the Pullman sleeper Fort Benton, which arrived here yesterday, handed over to Superintendent William H Boot a lady's fine gold watch which was left in the car by some one unknown who stopped off on the line of the Northern. It is probable that an application will be made for it in a day or two, for so well managed are the Pullman cars that anything left behind in one is not looked upon as lost.

"A COPPERY SKY."—The Astorian says "Fires on every side make the atmosphere close and add to the general discomfort produced by the present heat. The sun at noon looks down from a coppery sky, and sets in flame, the moon comes up like a blood smeared disc, and wears an uncanny look all night, and every puff of wind makes one think there's a fire somewhere so pungent and smoky does it strike the nose."

GAVE HIMSELF UP.—H D Pugsley, who killed John McIntosh on the south fork of the Willapa, in Pacific county, Washington territory, last Tuesday, gave himself up to the officers immediately, after the commission of the deed McIntosh was a single man Pugsley has a wife and two children. The quarrel is said to have been about a fallen tree, but all accounts of the affair are very meager

BADLY SCALDED.—Jewell Henrotte, aged years, son of Joseph Henrotte, No 7 North Second street, was badly scalded about noon yesterday by the upsetting of a kettle of boiling water that was standing upon the stove A physician was summoned who found the little fellow's injuries very severe. Last evening the little sufferer was resting much easier and may recover

NATURAL HISTORY SPECIMENS.—A magnificent elk's head the huge horns in the velvet, belonging to Chief of Police Parrish, is being mounted by E. Wascher, who has also in hand a flying squirrel, shot by W S Talling It has its "wings" expanded as if in flight. The flying squirrel, while not a rare animal in this state, is one not often seen The fur is as fine as silk

CHARGED WITH ARSON.—The Union Sentinel of July said M Washburn, foreman of the La Grande Gazette, was arraigned before Justice Bray at that place on Thursday, charged with arson, and was bound over in $1000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury Bonds are expected to be forthcoming" Washburn is a printer well known in Portland

BURGLARY AT CORNELIUS.—The store of T R. Cornelius & Co., at Cornelius, Washington county, was broken into sometime during Monday night and cash and goods to the value of $20 stolen It is reported that the burglary was committed by tramps and the firm have sent out men to scour the country in search of them

BRIEF MENTION.

"Uncle Josh" at the New Market theater to-night for the last time.

The steamship Ancon, from Alaska, arrived at Port Townsend yesterday

A marriage license was issued yesterday to G Kissell and Nellie T Davidson.

The canal and locks at Oregon City will be closed for necessary repairs for fifteen days from and after August 15

There will be a race at Ilwaco at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, between Graham's Black mare Flora Belle and Hall's P t, for $50 a side, 300 yards.

"Oh that this too solid flesh would melt, or thaw and resolve itself into a dew," exclaimed Hamlet If that noble Dane were here now he would sing another tune.

There will be a lawn party this evening at the residence of J. H Robbins, 290 Mill street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth It is given under the auspices of the ladies of the Christian church

Since the forfeiture of the land grant of the Oregon Central railroad there has been a rush at the land office at Oregon City to make entries on the lands No less than forty applications were filed yesterday

Brigadier General John Gibbon, who succeeds General Miles as commander of the military department of the Columbia, will arrive with his family, consisting of wife, two daughters and son, at Vancouver to-day

J P Howe, manager of the New Market theater, returned from Vancouver Monday night just in time to greet the arrival of a little stranger at his home. It was a bouncing baby boy, and Howe and his little wife deserve all the happiness the little fellow will bring them

In the police court yesterday three of the boys arrested for stealing some rabbits from an East Portland boy were arraigned They were Clarence Orton, Tommy Black and Willie Scruggs Young Black was released, Orton will probably be released, and Scruggs will be tried to-day

Chas. Kohn, one of the principal creditors of Daniel Holton, who assigned his property to John D Deneut on Monday, began suit yesterday in the state circuit court to prevent any one from removing the property, upon which the plaintiff has a chattel mortgage, from the Holton house

At Foley's springs, on the McKenzie there were 18 boarders and campers on the 24th Among them were a number of Portlanders, who enjoy the baths, the mountain air and the fish and game Dancing parties are given in the dining room of Rooney's hotel frequently Many invalids experience benefit from the waters

Miss Augusta I Allen, daughter of W O Allen of this city who, after a thorough course of elocutionary and dramatic training in the best schools of Europe, made her debut as an actress about a year since, sailed from Liverpool for New York last Friday, and will arrive here in about two weeks. She will receive a warm welcome from many friends, who have watched her career with pride and interest.

Parties who had friends away on the excursion to Astoria yesterday became very uneasy when the Multnomah had not arrived at 10 o'clock last night. Many inquiries were made at THE OREGONIAN office for information in regard to the excursion and when about midnight a telephone message from St. John stated that she was passing that place, many were relieved of anxiety

A Cure of Pneumonia

Mr D H [illegible] of Oswego N Y says that his daughter was taken with a violent cold which terminated with pneumonia and all the best physicians gave the case up and said she could live but a few hours at most She was in this condition when a friend recommended DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and advised her to try it She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better and by persevering a permanent cure was effected.

Eight dollars will buy an original Household Treasure at G SHINDLER & Co's, sole agents

SALMAGUNDI.

Not long ago upon the streets of Portland was to be seen a cane vender who disposed of his wares in a somewhat novel manner. He set up a table on the sidewalk, through the top of which protruded, five or six inches, the heads of twenty or thirty canes of various designs, six or eight inches apart. For 25 cents a man was given twelve gutta percha rings about two inches in diameter, which he may toss on the table from a distance of about six feet, aiming to make them fall over the heads of the canes. For every "ringer" thus made the fortunate tosser received the cane he "lassoed." As might be imagined the canes were hard to get, and the little amusement was not extensively patronized

Since that time the proprietor of this little game has gone up into Montana, and from there in connection with him comes a neat little story of the wide-awake treasurer of Lewis and Clarke county The cane vender, as usual, applied for a license before commencing business. After he had explained he modus operandi of his game the treasurer looked up the statutes to find what tax should be imposed, but as such a pastime was never conceived in the minds of the law framers, he could find no provision that would exactly cover the case So turning to the cane vender, he said,

"Let me see You say that for 25 cents you give a man twelve rings, which he shoots over in this manner (suiting the action to the word) trying to make them fall over the canes?"

"Yes," said the cane vender.

"Then that's a shooting gallery," said he treasurer, as a happy inspiration struck him, "and the license for that is $5"

About he best specimen case of "Woman in Politics" comes from Seattle, W. T., where they recently have had a city election. Concerning this the New Northwest says The Seattle election has brought about some remarkable things, to-wit Commendation of woman suffrage by the Chronicle, a paper heretofore opposed to it, and cheers for women and the reform by men who were noted for hostility to the innovation. The Chronicle gives a report of a popular demonstration in the evening after the election, when an immense crowd, with a band, marched through the streets to the homes of victorious candidates and prominent workers, cheering them loudly and listening to brief speeches in reply. Three women who labored earnestly for the success of the "business men" were thus honored. They are Mrs. M. E. Kenworthy, Mrs. Lyman Wood and Mrs. J. M. Pontius. Mrs. Kenworthy was abed when the procession halted in front of her home at 1 o'clock A. M., but she soon appeared and was introduced by Mr. J. C. Haldes, as "the champion of the women suffrage movement in Washington territory." The lady was received with cheers, and made a short speech She prophesied a successful administration by Mayor-elect Yesler, thanked her hearers for the honor shown her, and bade them good-night. Then "after cheers for Mrs. Kenworthy and for woman suffrage, the crowd departed " The other ladies did not speak, but simply bowed their acknowledgments The Chronicle is loud in its commendation of these women and their co-workers

The Tacoma News is responsible for the following The alleged deaf and dumb man, who some time ago was arrested at Carson's mill, and proved an insoluble conundrum to the police officers, has turned up at Sumner, where he figured in an episode that clearly exposed what a consummate fraud and impostor he was. It seems that he was "working" that country with a slate and petition on the charity "racket." He was met on the road one day last week by William Woolery of this place and Al. Coulter of Coulter & Sons, to whom he presented his begging petition. They suspected the man to be a fraud, and concluded to watch him He had not gone far on the road when he sat down on a log and was soon lost in what appeared a far away dreamy reverie of his past happy lot, and his now utterly woeful condition Coulter suggested the idea of surprising him into a betrayal, and suiting the action to the thought, Woolery stealthily crept up behind him, and without word or warning discharged a pistol in the air The fellow jumped up in great fright, and turning on the practical joker delivered himself of the bluest streak of pure Seattle "lava bed" lingo one would care to hear. So outraged was the fellow at being thrown off his guard by the cruel joke, that he forthwith had young Woolery arrested, on a warrant from Justice George of hat place, on a charge of assault to kill

A justice of the peace, who resides in Joseph, he leading city of the Wallowa valley, was recently "thumped" while sitting as a dispenser of justice He went with his case before the grand jury but failed to be satisfied, and at the first case after the term of the district court that same justice made the following opening address

"Gentlemen Having learned by sad experience that the grand jury of this county will not indict any person for assault and battery upon a justice of the peace while holding court, therefore in the future this gun (pulling a bulldog from his pocket and laying it on the table), will be considered a part of the docket of this court, and its business end will always be found pointing where duty calls or danger threatens Any person who attempts to bulldoze or run over his court is cautioned to take care of himself We will now proceed to business"

In view of the present status of the mortgage tax law, a correspondent writes of an idea that has come into his head as to how easy it will be to get out of paying taxes, or at least all but upon one-ninth of the actual value of one's property "Suppose," says he, "I have a farm or other property valued at $6000. When it is assessed at one-third, I will give a mortgage for the same amount, $2000, which clears me of any tax Then the mortgage will be assessed one-third, which will actually leave the farm free of taxes upon all but $666 66⅔."

The Astorian said recently "A monument to Senator Nesmith is proposed, The idea is a good one, About the first thing after any celebrated man dies is to propose a monument to his memory The proposition is enthusiastically seconded, About the next thing done is to forget all about it" And as nothing has been heard of it since it was enthusiastically seconded, it is evident Bro Halloran was a true prophet

G A R men and attorneys are generally pleased at the appointment of Hon William H. White of Seattle as United States district attorney for Washington territory, vice J B Allen removed White is an old soldier and one of the ablest lawyers in the territory He is an enemy to all land grabbers, some of whom are liable to come up for trial during his term of office.

THE EAST SIDE

CASE DISMISSED

[illegible] the Chinaman accused by R P Rasmussen with intimidation and threatening to kill, was examined before the recorder yesterday, and the evidence being insufficient to sustain the complaint, the case was dismissed Defendant was under contract to pick the berries at complainant's place at Mount Tabor and the case grew out of an attempt by the latter to disregard the contract by hiring cheaper men to perform the work stated. The act complained of was alleged to have been committed toward one of the new men employed, but the alleged object of the alleged offense could not be produced, though the case was continued from time to time, and the only evidence adduced was hearsay and irrelevant. The witnesses besides complainant being a Chinese cook in the employ of Mr Green and a man named Simonson Complainant, failing in this case, endeavored to have defendant arrested for assault and battery, committed upon himself, but the recorder considered the facts as presented by him too flimsy to entertain the charge. The animus of the above proceedings may be easily inferred, and if defendant would insist upon a fulfillment of his contract it would be more in the line of justice.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

Certain circumstances have created a suspicion that the man Dean, whose body was found in Johnson creek on Saturday last, was foully dealt with, and steps are being taken to have the body exhumed and re-examined. At the inquest a hole about an inch and a half in depth was discovered in the neck, and as crawfish had eaten some portions of the face, this was attributed to the same cause This theory, however, is claimed to be wrong by those in a position to know, who also assert that the appearance of the body indicated its having bled to death It is also said the deceased was an expert logger, and that an accident of the nature attributed as the cause of his death is highly improbable.

S[illegible]

D B Hendee and wife and H H Lewis have returned from the coast.

Mrs G F Nottage and Mrs S Mink have returned from a brief visit to Ashland.

The M. E Sunday school is in receipt of a new library of 175 volumes, from Chicago.

J. L. Sperry came in from his camp on the Sandy yesterday, and reports everything lovely.

Harper Pease, one of East Portland's rising young men, is the happy father of a boy It is quite the thing now to go to the Central market just to see Harper smile He does it so spontaneously.

Rev D O Ghormley leaves for Clatsop beach this morning, and his family will follow to-morrow

Justice Coleman and Constable Thorn have returned from their fishing excursion to the Clackamas.

Rev H. C Hobart, J W Kern and family, and Mrs Loyal Kern were among the latest departures for the coast.

A strange fatality seems to have struck Geo Beck's stable Another death has now to be chronicled, the victim this time being a bay back horse which fell over the incline at the rear of the stable and broke his neck, while being led down to the bottom to pasture.

Alex Barrell, delegate from Court Willamette, No 6790, A O F, to the subordinary high court, which convenes at Detroit, Michigan, on the 11th proximo, left for that place yesterday Before his return he will visit relatives at Galesburg, Illinois. He will be absent about six weeks.

MASONIC NOTICE.

A special meeting of Washington lodge, No 46, A F and A. M, will be held this (Wednesday) evening. Work in the second degree By order of W. H. MOORE, W M.

MIXED FARMING IN OREGON

BADGER WASCO Co, July 24

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Seeing your invitation to farmers to give their experience on raising wheat and mixed farming, I will say that I am an Iowa man too, but the Iowa editors will find if they come to Oregon that they must farm differently from what they do there. What will pay in Iowa will not pay here. In the first place we have no sure market here for anything but wheat, and a poor one for that. Dairy products will not pay when prime butter will only bring 8 to 10 cents, and sometimes cannot be sold at any price. Neither can we find sale for cattle in Portland. Two car loads would glut the market.

I farmed eight years in the Willamette valley, and when I undertook to raise clover I found it a failure. I have tried red and white clover and alfalfa, and neither will amount to anything in more than a few localities. In order to raise stock successfully we must have plenty of grass and a good market.

The farmer knows that what he raises a crop of wheat he can sell it at some price Not so with other products. Neither does continual cultivation of the land in wheat impoverish the soil, as I know by experience, provided the land is cultivated in a proper manner

As I wanted to engage in diversified farming I came to Wasco county Here we can raise wheat, oats, barley and corn, also clover and alfalfa. I have a field of alfalfa, sown last spring, now knee high and in full bloom.

Just so long as wheat is the only crop that will sell, just so long will farmers raise it. The farmers are just as quick to see what there is money in as any class of men

All the editors in Iowa may advise mixed farming and less wheat, and yet we will raise wheat until Portland capitalists put some of their money into factories and build up a city that is something more than a mere toll-gate But this will never be so long as they are content with cent-per-cent. Some of these days they will wake up from their Rip Van Winkle sleep to find that some other place has taken the trade and Portland is "left."

Give us a market for everything we produce; and you will see less wheat.

Harvest is in full blast here. Wheat is turning out well. Wasco will average twenty-five bushels per acre.

YAMHILL NOTES

MCMINNVILLE, July 28.

D H Turner is in Portland settling up his father's business.

Gen. G. E. Caukin of Portland is in town, on a flying trip up the valley.

The rules and regulations of the county fair to be held here September 15-18, will be published this week.

The G. A. R have voted to hold memorial services in respect to the memory of Grant, on Saturday, the 8th of August, Rev T. H. Henderson will deliver the address. The services will probably be held in Garrison's new opera house.

The time of holding the Newberg fair has been changed to September 9-11, so that people from Washington, Multnomah and Clackamas counties may attend that fair and the following week attend the county fair here, then to the state fair the next week

Harvest accidents are becoming numerous. Della Martin was thrown from, and run over by a wagon hitched to a runaway team, and had his shoulder crushed at the joint, breaking his arm and shoulder joint in a shocking manner A young man named Gunning was kicked in the face by a horse, breaking the upper jaw in three places and splitting the palate of the mouth His recovery is probable One of the Goodrich boys had some fingers nearly amputated by a stroke from a band-cutter

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

MONTANA

Jacob Frohner was killed by James Brower in a saloon about twelve miles from Helena last Thursday.

A cave in the old workings of the Penobscot mine uncovered about $30,000 worth of rich ore last week. The first rich deposit of ore discovered was found in a pocket or chimney and this find only confirms the impression of old miners that the Penobscot has never been worked out.

A rich strike was made in the Grand Central mine near Helena, a few days ago. Thus far it has shown up well, and the richness and width of the vein increases as the tunnel progresses It is now over three feet wide and assays from $75 to $22,000 to the ton The dump contains about fifty tons of ore, and the owners' purpose is to erect a mill just as soon as a road can be built for the transportation of machinery

WASHINGTON.

The mountains of Kittitas county are being thoroughly prospected this summer for coal, placer gold, gold and silver quartz and copper.

Ellensburg Localizer There are placer mines on the Columbia north of here, placer mines down in the canyon below town, on the Yakima, and placer diggings on the Swauk, then there are the quartz mines on the Peshastin on the Cle-elum and its tributaries. With these mines on all sides of Ellensburgh it makes it quite a supply point and mining business center.

One day last week two Yakima Indians, under the influence of liquor, came to the camp of some Umatilla Indians about four miles from Wallula and engaged in a quarrel with an Indian named Kilotskin, culminating in Kilotskin stabbing one so that he died instantly. Kilotskin fled. A number of Yakima Indians went in search. Later the Umatilla Indians settled it by giving the Yakima Indians ten horses.

COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY, July 28.

The smoke grows more dense, preventing the very warm weather that would otherwise be experienced.

The question of a proper classification of granulated rice under the tariff schedule has recently occupied a great deal of attention from rice importers and treasury department officers. The tariff schedule imposes an import duty of 2¼ cents per pound on cleaned rice 1¼ cents per pound on uncleaned rice 1¼ cents per pound on "paddy" and 20 per cent ad valorem on rice flour and rice meal. There is no provision for the so-called granulated rice and the secretary of the treasury has decided that it must be treated under section 2513 of the tariff laws, which imposes an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent, on "all nonenumerated manufactured articles." Some importers desired to know whether broken rice would be classified the same as granulated rice. The secretary of the treasury has decided that before imposing the prescribed import duty on "unenumerated manufactured articles" the appraiser must be satisfied that the articles have been actually manufactured.

Overland receipts include 460 cs canned beef 18 ctes hams 20 qr sks 10 bbls meal 150 cs lard [illegible] cs candy 3 sks coffee [illegible] bxs soap 360 cs lye 50 bbls axle grease, 2 cs cigars 3 cs cigarettes 250 pkgs tobacco, 30 qr [illegible] hf 20 bbls beer.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—Past 24 hours 3159 ctls wheat, 102 bbls flour, 1556 ctls oats 300 ctls bran 20 sks potatoes 1820 lbs wool 98 cs eggs 3 cs butter. Also, 1841 ctls wheat, 100 bbls flour from the eastern section.

FREIGHTS.—San Francisco reports two charters to-day. That of the Durham was doubtless consummated early in June, being withheld until now. Iron would hardly accept 32s 6d now for orders. With us no new business is reported.

WHEAT.—Foreign advices weaker and the markets wear a weak front. The local market rules inactive, although receipts are on the increase. Shippers claim $1 15 the best price offered for Walla Walla shipping. There is no demand for valley, holders of which have not sought buyers. Quotations cannot be given closely.

OATS.—Choice feed selling in a small way at [illegible]. Stained sold down to 22c. The request continues slow, dealers having free stocks.

APPLES.—Best local quoted 50@60c. The request is light.

CHICKENS.—Quote $3@4 for old with a possible advance for very choice. Young in free trading at $2@2 50.

EGGS.—Continued complaint is had as to the quality of receipts. This greatly lessens the demand. Quote 15c and weak.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 28.—Governments steady. Stocks were irregular to-day and taken as a whole moderately active. There was unusual activity in Missouri Pacific which contributed 17,475 shares to to-day's business and which displayed more than the ordinary amount of feverishness and weakness. The market opened strong followed by a decline which continued during most of the forenoon carrying prices down ½ to [illegible] per cent. With a less active market prices again became firm, and so continued during the forenoon, but with few exceptions early losses were only partly recovered. The market closed heavy on one of the numerous small reactions that took place in the afternoon.

It is semi-officially stated that the Missouri Pacific is extending its line into Union Pacific territory. Union Pacific developed noticeable strength in the last hour reaching the highest quotations of the day. The course of to-day's market indicates the fact that the announcement of the settlement of the troubles between the New York Central and the West Shore is fully discounted as is shown by the slight decline in the prices of the two securities most directly interested.

The Mail and Express says: The activity in Bodie and Bulwer continues with the general list neglected. Bodie sold up to $1 90. Bulwer 50@55. Homestake 15.

Coastwise Clearance Fees.

The secretary of the treasury has issued the following circular to customs officers in regard to the entry and clearance fees of coastwise vessels on the northern frontier.

The attention of the department has been directed to the inequality of the fees exacted of vessels clearing from a port in one district to a port in another district and of vessels clearing from a port in one district to a port or place in another district in which there is no custom house on the northern frontiers.

There will hereafter be charged on the northern northeastern and northwestern frontiers the following fees:

For all coastwise entries of enrolled and licensed vessels at a port in one district from another district, each 10 cents.

For all coastwise clearances of enrolled and licensed vessels from a port in one district to another district (except where a vessel clears to a port or place in another district at which there is no custom house having on board cargo or said place) each 10 cents.

For all coastwise clearances of enrolled and licensed vessels from a port in one district to a port or place in another district at which there is no custom house having on board cargo destined for said place the fees provided for paragraphs 10 and 11 section 4382 R S, according to the burden of vessel, each 25 or 50 cents.

For all other clearances to ports or places in other districts at which there is no custom houses than the one specifically set forth above each 20 cents.

No Hoary Chestnut in His

Boston Transcript.

"Matilda," he exclaimed, the perspiration irrigating the rootlets of his tawny locks. "Matilda, I love you." "Henry," she replied, clubbing with her fan the mosquito who was dining off her damask cheek. "Henry, it does you credit." "And," resumed Henry, with a voice far below the middle stud of his immaculate shirt front, "and do you, Matilda—do you—er love me?" "No, Henry," replied Matilda, with a Christian humility and resigned-to-my-lot frankness, "no Henry, I do not love you, but I esteem you as a [illegible]." "Oh, stew that," vociferated Henry "none o' your esteem you as a brother, that's too hoary a chestnut for me." And Henry on that same hour the lady forsook. True he had to but never you mind, he forsook her all the same.

The Stalwarts and Mr Blaine

Boston Advertiser.

The old stalwart wing is more hostile than ever to Mr Blaine. It glories in his defeat and promises he never shall be president. Logan is back at his old moorings, not a bit assuaged by the temporary alliance. This unexampled rancor, which time does not abate nor party allegiance overcome, is a political marvel. Its history would be the most interesting chapter of personal politics since the war.

He knows Better

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Miss Cleveland in her book remarks firmly that "one who has faith in the concrete is sure to have it in the abstract." If Miss Cleveland means by this that the Missouri democrat who believes he can get a job from her brother has reason to think he could get one anywhere else she jumps at conclusions rashly. The Missouri [illegible] knows better himself.

At the Seaside

New York Sun.

Jones—Hello, Smith, you here.

Smith—Yes, I had to come to take care of my little boy.

Jones—Where's the boy.

Smith—He was taken sick at the last moment and couldn't come.

If you suffer from looseness of the bowels Angostura Bitters will surely cure you. Beware of counterfeits and ask your grocer or druggist for the genuine article, prepared by Dr J G B Siegert & Sons.

A Tipple and Not a Tipple

Boston Transcript.

We hasten to inform our readers that the "coal tipple" which has just been wrecked at Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania, was not something to drink. It was only a contrivance for unloading coal. It was called a "tipple" because it went down so easily.

The best and cheapest of Sweetmeats. Ghirardelli's Nickel Chocolate. Try it. s

NOTE AND COMMENT

Half a million dollars were expended in behalf of the library of the British museum in 188[illegible], while the Bibliotheque Nationale in Paris spent $160,000.

Sir Francis Drake, who discovered California in 1577, called the country New Albion. The word California first appears in the writings of Nunez, one of the followers of Cortez.

A check for $750,000 drawn by the treasurer of the United States, and payable to the subtreasurer at St Louis, has been lost. The person finding it is requested not to draw the cash on it, but to return it to the owner.

Boston wool dealers note an improved demand for their commodity which encourages them to hope for a steady upward movement. Boston being the biggest wool market in the country, a better tone there is significant of better business all around.

June 20 next, Queen Victoria's semi-centennial as reigning sovereign will be celebrated. She will not complete her half century's reign until June, 1887, but the precedents are all in favor of the celebration being held at the beginning and not at the end of the fiftieth year.

The New York Times having made careful examination, reports that at the watering places in the east hundreds of young women pine on breezy verandas for hundreds of young men who swelter in the heat of the city, being quite unable to go out of town owing to "the unexpected course of the stock market."

The prince of Wales keeps at Sandringham a book in which the arrivals and departures of guests, their usual habits, special requirements, etc., are entered with the scrupulous exactitude of a merchant's ledger. Noting this the Buffalo Advertiser observes that "a good hotel keeper was spoiled when this man was born in the purple of royalty."

The Panama canal, which was to have been completed in 1888 at a cost of $120,000,000, would not be finished in ten years, even if the present rate of excavation was maintained. More than $100,000,000 have been already expended, and the probabilities are that if the canal is ever finished it will be after an outlay of $4[illegible],000,000. The prediction is freely made abroad that when M de Lesseps dies the whole scheme will collapse.

Benefits of the Change

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Collector Hedden of the New York custom house is not giving that degree of satisfaction in the discharge of his duties that was expected. The solicitor of the treasury complains that Mr. Hedden is worrying his office with questions respecting disputed points of the tariff law which have heretofore been settled by treasury decisions, with which the collector is supposed to be familiar; also that some of these questions are of the most trivial character, and as such ought to be settled on the spot. There was no such trouble under the administration of Judge Robertson, for the reason that the judge himself is an excellent lawyer and well read in tariff legislation and tariff sinuosities, whereas his successor is not a lawyer, but a merchant, who is as apt to be perplexed at times as the importers themselves.

Meaning of Coup

St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A French word meaning a blow. It is a term variously used to express the sense of something forcible and efficacious. Thus coup-de-grace, the finishing blow or master-stroke; coup-de-main, a sudden, unpremeditated attack, generally resulting in success; coup-de-oeil, the first glance of the eye, with which it surveys any object; coup-de-etat, a sudden and violent measure of political action—generally understood in a dishonorable sense; coup-de-soleil, a sunstroke, a disorder produced by the action of the hot sun; coup-de-theater, a sudden and surprising substitution or transposition in the action of an event or circumstance.

Pictures of Battenberg and the Princess.

Ohio State Journal

The princess appears to be the good sensible, can-bake-bread-just-like-her-mother girl that she is, but Me Lud, Prince Henry, looks as if he might be suffering from a carbuncle. Brace up, Henry, you part your hair in the middle, but your heart may be in the right place.

NATIONAL BOARD OF HEALTH

Prof Kedzie, of the Michigan University, who personally superintended the examination of various brands of baking powders on the market, and made an official government report to the National Board of Health, Washington, D. C., says: "In some brands we found the excrementitious ammonia, in still others we found alum and other foreign ingredients, leaving our hair [illegible] as the result of our labors, absolutely but one baking powder—Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder—upon which to fix the seal of purity and wholesomeness."

A CURE OF PNEUMONIA.

Dr H D B[illegible] of Oswego N Y says that his daughter was taken with a violent cold which terminated with Pneumonia, and all the best physicians gave the case up and said she could live but a few hours at most. She was in this condition when a friend recommended DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better, and by persevering a permanent cure was effected.

Proposals for Flour.

Office of Purchasing and Depot Commissary, Vancouver Barracks W T, July 2[illegible], 1885.

SEALED PROPOSALS IN DUPLICATE SUBJECT to the usual conditions will be received at this office and at the offices of the Acting Commissaries of Subsistence at the following named posts until 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, August 1[illegible], 1885 at which time and place they will be opened in presence of the bidders for the delivery on or before September 10 1885 of the following amounts of flour viz: Boise Bks I T 10 [illegible] pounds Fort Coeur d'Alene I T [illegible] pounds Fort Klamath Or 7[illegible] pounds Fort Bidwell [illegible] Vancouver Barracks W T [illegible] or Portland Or [illegible] pounds Fort Walla Walla W T [illegible] pounds.

Samples [illegible] of the flour not less than ten pounds proposed to be furnished must be submitted with the proposals. The flour to be tested by baking before acceptance. Proposals for quantities less than the whole required will be received. The government reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to diminish or with the consent of the bidder to whom the award is made to increase the quantities called for as the exigencies of the service may require.

Blank proposals and printed circulars stating the kind of flour required and giving full instructions as to the manner of bidding conditions to be observed by bidders and the terms of contract and payment will be furnished on application to this office or to the A C S of the post at which it is proposed to make delivery.

Envelopes containing proposals should be marked "Proposals for Flour at [illegible]" and addressed to the undersigned or to the Acting commissaries of subsistence at the posts to be supplied.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY, WASHINGTON, June 25, 1885.

WHEREAS BY SATISFACTORY EVIDENCE presented to the undersigned it has been made to appear that The First National Bank of Portland in the city of Portland in the county of Multnomah and State of Oregon has complied with all the provisions of the Act of Congress to enable national banking associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes approved July 12, 1882.

Now, therefore, I Henry W Cannon Comptroller of the Currency do hereby certify that The First National Bank of Portland in the city of Portland in the county of Multnomah and State of Oregon is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association namely until close of business on July 4 1905.

{Seal} In testimony whereof witness my hand and seal of office this 25th day of June 1885.
